Dominion Government Experts Report

Irrigation Is Desirable In Alberta.

Irrigation in the Alberta area is a great benefit, and entirely desirable, according to a report on irrigation, just printed and forwarded to Deputy Minister Cory by Commissioner of Immigration, F. H. Peters, who was commissioned to make the report by E. F. Drake, superintendent of irrigation of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa. The report as to climate and other such conditions was made out by G. N. Houston, member of the American Society of Civil Engineers under the direction and supervision of Mr. Peters.

The report goes on to state that climatic conditions in the Alberta area are similar to those of many other parts where irrigation is successfully carried on; that it is evident that irrigation is very desirable; that in the event of another dry period such as prevailed from 1885 to 1896, irrigation would be a necessity; and that many of the irrigationists have had no previous experience and that the mistakes which have been made have been in most instances the mistakes of ignorance.

The reports admit that damage has been caused in certain spots where there is only a clay sub-soil and where the land lies close to the irrigation ditch, the damage being caused by seepage from the ditch. In such instances it would be necessary for the farmer to under-drain his land.

The report was made out at the request of the government in view of many complaints by farmers as to the lack of necessity of irrigation—some even claiming that it was in some instances detrimental.

The report in a short time will be distributed among all interested parties.

Below is a synopsis of the findings.

The climatic conditions in the western section are similar to those in several other places where irrigation has been successfully practiced for many years, and therefore there is no reason, so far as climate is concerned, why it should not be successful here.

It is evident that irrigation is very desirable on the western section.

In the event of another dry period, such as occurred in certain seasons from 1885 to 1896 on the western section, it is evident that irrigation would be an absolute necessity.

The application of irrigation water to crops in the western section will not result in seriously retarding their growth.

In some sections underlaid with heavy clay subsoils there are instances of very serious and extensive injury, undoubtedly due to excessive seepage from canals. Many farmers will be obliged to put in under-drains, and especially on those lands with a heavy, impervious subsoil, to avoid the occurrence of alkali on their low-lying fields.

Many of the farmers have had no previous experience in irrigation and the larger number of mistakes were due to ignorance.

Farming under irrigation is a special branch of agriculture, and as such it must be learnt.

Pte. C. FRANK VIAR
No. 80,204—31st Bat. C. Co. C.O.E.F., who was wounded by shrapnel, Oct. 13th, in France and is again in the trenches. Frankie was the first Gleichen born boy to enlist from here.

Lue Ingstrom Reported Killed in Action

George Moss received word last week from his son, George, that Lue J. Ingstrom had been killed in action "last week". This was the first heard of the incident in Gleichen and from the date of the letter it is evident Lue was killed about four weeks ago.

Lue was one of the best known cowboys in this country and a man admired and liked by all his fellows. A year ago he took a prominent part in the Gleichen stampede, winning prizes each day for bareback riding. He was in the employ of P. Burns and Co., F. A. McHugh & sons and other ranchers in this district, all of whom have a good word to say of his abilities and integrity.

His birth place was somewhere in Sweden, but became a naturalized Canadian and when the war broke out was among the first to enlist with the 12th Mounted Rifles. Later he left for the front with a draft but at present writing it is not quite certain with which battalion.

Lue was one of the real western type of horsemen, who believed in being allowed his freedom to ride and do his duty as he saw the occasion; one of those fellows who believed in "breaking all rules rather than breaking the firm." This it is said got him in trouble with some of the staid old country officials more than once, who will now be obliged to admit that the western cowboy is one who not only acts but dies for the principles he believes in.

428,507 BU. GRAIN RECEIVED

The shortage of grain cars continues and is on the increase, there being on the order book yesterday morning 114 cars, and only 14 were shipped during the past week, which totals up to 201 from Gleichen this season, and one more has been added for Stobart, making 10 from that point.

All of the four elevators are filled and are only taking in grain as they obtain cars to ship out. However, it would seem that we are better off in this respect than many of the northern towns along the Canadian Northern.

When the CALL made his rounds yesterday morning he found three elevator managers at the freight office worrying the ever-obliging agent for cars. They were even willing to unload cars of coal, merchandise or anything else if they could only be sure of a car, and when a freight train passed west without leaving an empty they were not—well, very happy.

While the elevator men are doing their best to accommodate their customers they are experiencing much trouble. One manager stated he had purchased No. 2 wheat at the price of No. 3 as his No. 2 bin was full and he was obliged to put it into No. 3 bin, which he explained to his customer. It is also said one farmer returned home with a load.

However, these elevators took in 13,369 more bushels of wheat than a week ago and 2,614 more bushels of oats. The total for the week being 46,744 bushels of wheat and 7,377 of oats. Making for the season 428,507 bushels of all grains so far received this season.

Called Suddenly

It was with much surprise that word was received on Saturday that Thomas Scott of Majorville had died suddenly of heart failure at Bassano. It appears he had been at one of the elevators and complaining of not feeling well returned to a boarding house near by where he had left his wife. A doctor was summoned and seeing his serious condition sent for another doctor and finally had the patient carried up stairs, but despite every attention he passed away. The funeral took place at Bassano, Monday afternoon and was attended by friends and relatives. We regret to learn that his wife is now in a precarious condition as the result of his sudden death and her recovery is dispaired of as she is not a very strong lady.

Mr. Scott came to Gleichen from North Dakota about eight years ago and settling on a homestead proved quite successful in his farming operations, since acquiring one and a quarter sections of land which he has farmed and improved in many ways. He was a most valuable citizen and will be greatly missed in the community.

Besides leaving his wife to mourn his loss he leaves his brother, George Scott, who was formerly in the implement business in Gleichen and a number of other relatives and many friends.

It is reported that "Jack" Hooker has enlisted to fight for his king and country. Jack has many friends in Gleichen who will wish him a safe return.

Word has been received from Cranbrook, B. C., that Douglas Bishop, who was formerly in the employ of C. J. Bray, has enlisted.

Coming. Dr. M. Mecklenburg, the eye specialist. Saturday Dec. 4th.

WEDDING BELLS

LYONS—GOODERHAM

What is there in the vale of life,
Half as delightful as a wife:
When friendship, love and peace combine,
To stamp the marriage-bond divine.
—COWPER

The announcement of the wedding of Miss Katherine Margaret Gooderham to Mr. Harry Gordon Lyons at Calgary last Thursday, November 18th, will be a surprise to many, but not entirely to the more intimate friends of the happy couple, all of whom will wish them a most happy and useful future.

The wedding was solemnized at the Bankview Presbyterian manse by Rev. Mr. Runnie, formerly of Gleichen, the bride was given away by her father, Mr. J. H. Gooderham, Indian Agent of the Blackfoot reserve here, and was attended by her sister Isabel, while the bridegroom was accompanied by his friend Dr. Locke of Peace River Crossing. The only guests present being Misses Emma and Edith Jones and Private Roderick Gooderham, brother of the bride.

A wedding breakfast was partaken of in the Alexandra hotel after which Mr. and Mrs. Lyons left for Edmonton, en route to Peace River Crossing.

The newly wedded couple are well known in Gleichen and very popular. Mr. Lyons was for a number of years manager of the Royal Bank here, but was transferred to Peace River Crossing early last spring. During his stay here he made many friends for himself by his strict attention to business and ever courteous treatment of all his customers. Miss Gooderham is well known throughout this district as she attended public school here and after graduating at the head of her class taught school here for several terms and also at Bankhead, becoming a great favorite with the children who will greatly miss her.

Letter From 12th M.R. Boy

Editor CALL:—

At last we have landed at our destination after a most beautiful train and sea trip. The C. P. R. catered for our trip and it was awful food we received, but we had to make the best of it all. If we had not stopped at different stations and allowed off to buy we would have landed in Montreal like tooth picks, instead we landed like British oaks, some difference. It rained all the way down so we could not get off for any route marches, but when we stopped at a place called Smith Falls, which is a very pretty French town, one hour, and, of course, got a very fine reception. That was our first parade. Our colonel and officers trusted us. We were allowed our own way wherever we stopped. That is to say many a fellow could have slipped away without any trouble, but they all were there at the Montreal roll call.

I am asked by the boys of the fighting 12th to thank you one and all for the supper and reception given us previous to our leaving, not forgetting the dear ladies of Gleichen. The boys often spoke of it on the trip, wishing they eat more of those cakes; but a time will come when the most of us will return, and then watch your pantries.

We got a most wonderful send off from Calgary, the citizens were just that fond of us that they stayed at the station from the time we arrived till we steamed out, that was about four in the morning. I never wish to experience anything like it again.

Now, our sea trip was lovely only some of the boys were sick. It was rough the first few days and rained on an off but after the sea sickness wore off you could never wish to see such a fine healthy lot. They could eat anything (oh those cakes again) but the food was really not worth going down stairs after. So they raised the prices on everything, such as boxes of 10c biscuits 25c, 5c bar of chocolate 3 for a shilling, a general hold up. But, now, we are to the worst. The second day out from Plymouth, they say we were nearly hit with one of those German toy tin fishes but they missed us, what a blessing? We had two torpedo destroyers meet us two days from Plymouth. If they had not been with us we might have got it where the chicken got the hatchet, in the neck. We had life boat and life belt practice every day, when we were able. It sure was funny to see fellows running around with the belts on. But safety first.

We had to stay on the ship two days after we landed at Plymouth. We had another regiment of mounted with us—the Eighth from Kingston, also a draft of the 78th Camerons of 250, and 250 of the 40th from Quebec, a fine lot of boys but not in a class with the famous.

We are now in barracks and in the midst of a hugh forest. We are in huts 20x40, 40 men to each, they are very nice, every convenience a man can wish for, hot and cold baths, good beds on the floor, straw mattresses and four blankets to a man, good food and lots of hard drill; but old England is a wonderful country. We are a short way from Aldershot, which is reserved for the English troops and Bramshot for Canadians. There is room for forty to fifty Canadians—some camp. First we were going to Shorncliffe, Kent, but two nights before we landed they were visited by Zeppelins and killed about 20

HOCKEY CLUB DANCE

FRIDAY, DEC. 3rd.

Evidently hockey, as per usual, will be the predominating sport in Gleichen this winter. While there is no skating ice yet in sight the hockey enthusiasts are preparing not only for games but also for social entertainments.

Last Friday evening a meeting was held in Thos. Henderson's real estate office and after an interesting discussion the following officers were elected for the season of 1915-16.

Hon. President Chris Bartsch,
Hon. Vice Presidents Mayor C. J. Bray, Jas. Cameron and R. R. Gilbert.

President J. B. Bell,
Vice President Dr. C. R. McIntyre.

Secy.-Treas C. S. Fawcett,
Manager H. Dexter McKay.

It was decided that the membership of the club for the season should be $1.00 and that Secretary Fawcett should issue tickets accordingly.

The secretary was instructed to write to the neighboring towns to arrange hockey matches for the season and the club look forward to good sport for the coming season.

A committee was appointed to arrange for entertainments and it has been decided to give a dance in the Opera House on Friday evening December 3rd, and the committee has determined to make a success of their first effort promising to give full value for the small amount they ask for admission of $1.00 for gentlemen. They have secured excellent music supplied by a Calgary orchestra and will see that everybody enjoys themselves.

The Skating Rink Co. have also completed arrangements for the season to place the rink in first-class condition so soon as Jack Frost will permit. Season tickets for skating may be obtained from any member of the Hockey Club on the payment of $3.00 for gentlemen, $2.00 for ladies and $1.00 for children.

Agent Gooderham and his assistants paid out over $4000 in treaty money to the Blackfoot Indians since Monday, and as their custom is, the Indians are in town by the hundreds, spending their money and enjoying themselves in horseracing, etc.

Be prepared for the winter. Buy your Anti Frost weather strip from the Gleichen Trading Co.

soldiers and a bunch of horses, so they moved us further inland. Don't say anything but we are not sorry, after what some of the boys say who have visited London and saw what those Zeppelins can do.

I have got my trip yet to make to London and I will write and tell you all about it. I must close now or you will think this is all I have to do; sit and write letters, but if you could only see us you would say how cruel, but you have got to be cruel to be kind. Well, well, once again I must close wishing the mayor, mayoress, citizens and Red Cross society every success and prosperity also the editor and family good luck. Believe me and your boys of the 12th O.M.R.,

Truly yours,
Corpl. E. WAGSTAFF.

A VOICE FROM P.E.I.

Big Changes Predicted in Fiscal Policy of Warring Nations

It is not often that we hear from our Sister Province by the sea, Prince Edward Island, on the questions of trade and fiscal policies. When the whole of Canada, particularly the Western provinces, was greatly smothered up over the changes proposed in 1913, we do not remember having seen many references to the attitude of the people of the "Province by the Sea" on the questions at issue.

Apparently the editor of the Charlottetown "Guardian", from whom we quote below, is a close student of economic history and while the views may not find favor in the West, it will be interesting to our readers to know how the minds of some of their fellow citizens by the sea are working with respect to trade questions.

The following article from the Charlottetown "Guardian" of a few weeks ago, indicates the views of a large school of economists:

The old Manchester school of politicians was all powerful in its day. It was the outcome of the rise of the middle classes to political power in Britain, in England more particularly. Up till 1810 the middle classes in England had practically no say in the government of the country. Then they made their voices heard and influence felt. The middle classes in Britain represent, for the most part, the middle classes in business, the men who make their living by purchasing the products of the factory and retailing them to the retail shopkeepers. So long as the markets of a country are not saturated, the middle class is restricted to a legitimate percentage of profit. Labor demands a fair wage and the consumer will not pay more than he can afford, or at all events pay more than he can afford, and so prices are kept reasonably moderate, commensurate with the just remuneration of labor. The Manchester school of politicians set themselves the task of cutting the price of labor, and the only way they could do so successfully was to bring in the products of foreign hand-labor, and to do this they imported manufactured goods from Great Britain of the surplus products of their own factories. The middlemen in Great Britain have prospered and waxed mighty as the result of this policy. All the millionaires north of the last fifty years have been made men who bought in the cheapest market and sold in the dearest. Many of the British industries have gone to the wall because of the encouragement of cheap foreign-made goods, and Germany gained the financial strength she enjoyed through protecting her own workmen's hands while under-selling the labor of the British workman. One of the outcomes of the war will be to bring the British workman into his own, to do away, practically for ever, with unstarved free trade, and to substitute therefor fair trade on a basis of tariff reform. This is secured. Cobden is on the dead-wood and will not survive the war. Mr. Joseph Chamberlain was the prophet of the new school of tariff reform, and his prediction will be as accurately true as his prediction of the action of the British Dominions in the event of a great war such as the present.

It is difficult to see from this distance how the Charlottetown editor can find support for his arguments. The war has shattered the records of free trade, and it is a bold man today who would make any sweeping predictions about the future of free trade. It is easy to say, however, that the fiscal policy of Great Britain will be the cause of much searching of mind during the years following the war, and there is no doubt that revenue necessities will be such that the old policy of free trade will have to be departed from in many respects.

"MADE-IN-CANADA" AND THE PRESS
Annual Conviction of Newspapermen Discussed
At the recent annual meeting of the Canadian Press Association, held in Toronto, considerable discussion took place regarding the "Made-in-Canada" idea, and the big campaign which was launched a year ago. The newspaper proprietors and editors present were almost unanimously in favor of the "Made-in-Canada" idea. "Industrial Canada," the official organ of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, expresses the appreciation of the assistance rendered by the Canadian Press Association, and says: "The members of the Canadian Press Association deserve and have received the thanks of Canadian manufacturers for the white-hot and very effective support which they gave and are still giving to the 'Made-in-Canada' policy."

"When the newspapers, with splendid unanimity, took up the 'Made-in-Canada' cry, supported it vigorously and put it into practice, they performed a distinct national service and in addition benefited themselves according to the terms which they exacted for their support. The war was of the country and their own interest be assured."

After the war the United States will perhaps be the richest country in the world. That means that Canada will have along the 4,000 mile boundary a number of competing industrial centers which will have the means of supplies of money, huge organizations and great numbers of skilled employees. At the present time the chemists and technical experts of the United States are using their utmost ingenuity to perfect devices and products which they hope will make their country the leading manufacturing nation of the world. It is with their powerful neighbor that we must compete. In the coming industrial battle Canada manufacturers will have to fight geography, they will be handicapped by lack of capital, and in almost every way they will be placed at a disadvantage with manufacturing firms of the United States. Consequently, it is not of supreme importance that the "Made-in-Canada" campaign should be supported vigorously.

In the last nine months the value of the goods imported into Canada for consumption was $100,000,000. For a similar period of the preceding year, the value of goods imported into Canada for consumption was $100,000,000. Consequently, since the "Made-in-Canada" campaign was started, our purchases abroad have diminished by $90,000,000 and it is reasonable to claim that the "Made-in-Canada" campaign is responsible for at least a part of this decrease.

While it is too early to make bold statements regarding the ultimate effect of the war on the fiscal policies of Great Britain, the Budget recently brought down in the British House of Commons may well cause concern in the minds of those who have always been stout defenders of the policy of free trade.

Buy an Irrigated Farm From The CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

BECAUSE:

Irrigation makes the farmer independent of rainfall, and insures good crops, not occasionally, but every year.

Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, the king of feeders, which insures fast returns in dairying and mixed farming.

Irrigation means intensive farming and close settlement, with all the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community.

Irrigation in the Canadian Pacific Railway Irrigation Block is no longer an experiment, the year 1914 having absolutely demonstrated its success wherever intelligently applied.

You can buy irrigated land from the Canadian Pacific Railway at prices ranging from $50 to $75 per acre, with twenty years to pay, and the privilege of a loan of $2,000 for improvements (5% interest) no principal payment at end of first or second years and no water rental for first year. Assurances are also given in supplying stock in approved instances.

This is the most liberal offer of irrigated farm land on record. Get full particulars from 20 per cent on 1st May, 1916.

The installments may be paid in full on and after the 3rd day of January, 1916, under discount at the rate of four per cent per annum. All payments are to be made to a chartered bank for the credit of the Minister of Finance. Failure to pay any installment when due will render previous payments liable to forfeiture and the allotment to cancellation.

Applications, accompanied by a deposit of ten per cent of the amount subscribed, must be forwarded through the medium of a chartered bank. The bank will issue a provisional receipt. This loan is authorized under Act of the Parliament of Canada and both principal and interest will be a charge upon the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Forms of application may be obtained from any branch of any chartered bank in Canada, and at the office of any Assistant Receiver General in Canada.

Subscriptions must be for even hundreds of dollars. In case of partial allotment the surplus deposited will be applied towards payment of the amount due on the January installment. Scrip certificates payable to bearer will be issued, after allotment, in exchange for the provisional receipts.

The books of the loan will be kept at the Department of Finance, Ottawa. Recognized bond and stock brokers will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent on allotments made in respect of applications which bear their stamp.

Subscription Lists will close on or before 30th November, 1915.

The Queenstown Items

(From our own correspondents)
After an enforced idleness of a few days, caused by the recent snowstorm the thrashing rigs are again working, but to say the least it is not a pleasant job. The days are short and mornings and evenings chilly.

On Tuesday, November 5th, the grain hauling from Queenstown came to a sudden stop. A few levels went to the ferry in the morning but found the old saw frozen in and navigation closed. The farmers are now resting on their cars waiting for the ice to get strong enough to carry a load, which must not be for several weeks. In the meantime there is an awful cool in the wilderness—not by slaves but by the collectors.

A rather serious accident happened last week to Ole Nielsen when he was working about his thrashing outfit. It appears he slipped and was caught by a belt and injured in the back of his head and one of his arms.

The long delayed Fred Begg wedding dance came off on Friday, Nov. 19th, at the Liberty School.

The Ladies Institute held a bazaar on Friday evening, Nov. 19th, in the Queenstown school.

On Friday, Dec. 3rd, there will be a masquerade in the Pioneer school.

The Queenstown farmer's will hold their annual meeting Friday, December 17th, in the Pioneer school. The business meeting will begin at two o'clock in the afternoon and considerable important business will be transacted. After the business meeting supper will be served in cook-cars if possible. The ladies are warned to bring plenty of clothes. After supper there will be a social program, including a play given by the Queenstown amateur players. The balance of the night will be devoted to dancing, etc.

There will be a Christmas tree in the Lake McIntyre school on the 24th or 25th before Christmas, the date not yet being decided upon.

O Snooky, we are waiting for that dance.

The CALL family had a great feed on Tuesday, of real moose—just think of that. Moose steak away out on the prairie for newspaper man who is only allowed to shoot delinquent subscribers. It was a treat most kindly supplied by Mayor Bray, and he did not even say election day was approaching. In company with W. H. James and Dr. McIntyre, with Hank Ferguson as guide, our worthy mayor recently spent a couple of weeks moon hunting away in the wilds of the foothills of the Rocky Mountains.

For cutlery and Electro Plate razors, scissors, carving set, etc., we are the people—G.T.Co.

E. Mullen, "Captain Irish," who has been in charge this season of the "Mary Ann" ferry, opposite Clancy on the Bow River arrived in town last Thursday and announced that his troubles were over for the season. He said the "Mary Ann" had been leached high and dry, owing to too much floating ice and that from now on his patrons from Queenstown would have to wait until the ice was strong enough to carry them across the Bow, as he could do nothing more for them until the ice went out in the spring. The "Captain" said he regretted very much that he could not pilot the million bushels of grain reported in the Queenstown district across on the "Mary Ann," but had the barge boys finished their thrashing and arrived at his ship before the ice he would have turned the trick. From his patrons it is learned that the master of the "Mary Ann" and all that could be expected from an Irishman and that they hope to look upon his finest command early next spring. "Iris" is all right, alright, and deserves a holiday," said one.
